The Hardiman

If you are planning on heading West any time soon, then look no further than the iconic Hardiman Hotel located on Eyre Square for a breakaway to the friendliest city in Europe...

Spend time in the city of tribes, see Eyre Square or sit on the walls of the Spanish Arch where the River Corrib flows. Stroll down Shop Street, where talented buskers play, or head straight for the great outdoors and day trip to one of the many unspoiled golden beaches, see the wonderfully wild landscapes of the Connemara National Park, take a boat trip to the Aran Islands, or simply saunter to Salthill and dip your toe in the ocean. With stunning scenery at every turn and plenty of fun to be had along the way.

The House Hotel

A stones throw from Quay Street where all the action happens, Shop Street where you can browse all of Galway's favourite stores and boutiques, and a skip and a jump from the Spanish Arch where you can relax by the Claddagh or stroll towards Salthill.

From your home to our House, when you stay with us you are right beside all of the action. Choose from day trips to add to your stay whether it be a trip to the Aran Islands, a visit to Kylemore Abbey or perhaps a simple walking trail in Connemara, our team are happy to point you in the right direction.
